THIRTIETH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Reflection by Rev. Leonard N. Peterson

This weekend features a gospel passage in which Jesus tells another one of His matchless parables that includes a key element in all real prayer: humility. The story includes an indictment of those who were “self-righteous.” That word describes a person who is “smugly moralistic and intolerant of the opinions and behavior of others.” I dislike that definition, not because of any inaccuracy, but because it accurately describes me at times. Not something to brag about at all.

I have this pet description of myself and most people as having in our minds an imaginary courtroom where we are both prosecutor and judge. We diagnose the failure of someone we know, for example, to be Christlike. Then we “pounce and pronounce” on them with a clear and harsh verdict of “guilty,” all the while hinting quite broadly that we never act that way ourselves. This applies to celebrities, well-known politicians and their political parties, our fellow family members, the hierarchy of the Church, our pastors, and nearly anybody we care to name.

And then along comes Our Lord with a devastating parable featuring a man much like ourselves who is obviously so wrong, so full of pride as to be disgusting. To top it off, he is contrasted with his opposite, a virtuous and humble man who mouths a heartfelt request of his God. Obviously, we know which man Our Lord the Storyteller favors.

Listen again to that tax collector in the back of the room that could well teach a college course in prayer. He says “O God, be merciful to me, a sinner.” Just eight words. But worth more than eighteen or eighty in describing a perfect attitude when addressing our all-holy God. We know of the greedy practice of many a Jewish tax collector in those days, ostensibly working for the Romans but secretly working for themselves by overcharging taxpayers. The man in the parable is a wonderful exception. We admire him. We want to be like him. He would know the truth of today’s Responsorial Psalm: “The Lord hears the cry of the poor.”

In the meantime, we trust in God to help us improve each day to be more like the person He had in mind when He created us. Of course, we have to live with people who are the opposite of that taxpayer, who seem to be everywhere. Sometimes we delight when they get their comeuppance. Like the man in this story published in “The Los Angeles Times.”

A flight cancellation had resulted in a long line of travelers trying to get booked on another flight. One man in the line grew increasingly impatient with the slow-moving line. Suddenly, he pushed his way to the front and angrily demanded a first-class ticket on the next available flight. “I’m sorry,” said the ticket agent, “but I’ll have to first take care of the people who were ahead of you in the line.”

The irate man then pounded his fist on the ticket counter, saying, “Do you have any idea who I am?” Whereupon the ticket agent picked up the public address microphone and said, “Attention please! There is a gentleman at the ticket counter who does not know who he is. If there is anyone in the airport who can identify him, please come to the counter.” Hearing this, the man retreated, and the people waiting in line burst into applause.

Parish Theme for 2019 - 2020 The Family: a Communion of Life and Love

From the Pastor

Synopsis of Pastoral Council Meeting of October 9, 2019 – The members of the Council are: Nicole Bazis, Bess Combs-Chmielewski, George Gazella, Marybeth Hagan, Robert McCairns, Mary Anne Monroe, Bruce Fay, Martha Ortiz, Monica Romeo, Teresa Albers and April Gordon. The Council discussed an article on helping families to share the faith among themselves. Some items considered at the meeting: a) The enrollment at the School is 300 (170 from St. Margaret parish; 65 from other Catholic Parishes; 65 non-Catholic). The PREP (Parish Religious Education Program) enrollment is about 180 from grades 1 through 7. b) There is one adult currently in our Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults. c) Forty Hours Eucharistic Devotions will be on Nov. 17 – 19. Deacon John Lozano will preach on the relationship of the Eucharist to Family Life. d) At the recommendation of a Lower Merion Police safety officer, a handout will be distributed at Mass to alert people to the Church exits in a time of emergency. e) Capital improvements this summer were: a gate for the back schoolyard; a new set of security doors and a card swipe entry system in the School; some renovation of two offices in the rectory; and some pointing will soon be done on one wall of the Church. f) Father Dennis Gill, the director of the Office for Divine Worship for the Archdiocese recently visited, praised the beauty of our Church and recommended a few changes to some of the liturgical arrangements in our Church. Monsignor will speak to the Parish about this on Sunday, November 3. g) We are continuing to evaluate some improvements to our sound system. h) Nicole Bazis, the coordinator of Parish Services, explained her work on social media for the Parish and presented her thoughts and efforts at Youth Ministry. i.) Consideration was given to having a Parish Directory. Nicole will look into some ways that this might be able to be done online. j.) Evaluations as to how we can better utilize the Antioch Annex to meet our parish needs are continuing. An architect has been hired to gather input from a committee on how we use the Annex and to draw up some basic plans of how the Annex might be shaped to meet those needs.

Mass for Anointing of the Sick – This Sunday, October 27, the 11:30 am Mass will include the Anointing of the Sick.

Reboot Revisited: Love Yourself – The first practice that Chris Stefanick recommended on living our faith is: Love yourself. The Lord told us to love others as we love ourselves. So if we are to truly love others, we need first to have a healthy love for ourselves. One important aspect of caring for ourselves is getting enough sleep. I recall reading a spiritual poem years ago that began with the words, “God loves the man who sleeps.” The author’s point was that we have to learn to put things in God’s hands. There is only so much we can do as limited human beings. We shouldn’t overwork as if everything depended on us. We do what we can, then put things in God’s loving hands. Sleep is an act of trust. It is laying aside our own efforts and leaving the rest to God. Studies show that a lack of sufficient sleep is the cause of many problems from health issues to accidents. Take care of yourself, get enough sleep, so that you can be better refreshed and renewed to serve the Lord and others.

Catholic Charities Appeal 2019 – As of Oct. 17, 159 of our parishioners have donated a total of $60,146 toward our goal of $84,835. If you have not yet done so, please consider making a donation to this important Archdiocesan collection to fund many Archdiocesan programs that serve the needy in our Philadelphia area and help us to proclaim the gospel.

Church Teaching: In the Image of God – Of all visible creatures only man is able to know and love his creator. He is the only creature on earth that God has willed for its own sake, and he alone is called to share, by knowledge and love, in God’s own life....Being in the image of God the human individual possesses the dignity of a person, who is not just something, but someone. He is capable of self-knowledge, of self-possession and of freely giving himself and entering into communion with other persons. And he is called by grace to a covenant with his Creator, to offer him a response of faith and love that no other creature can give in his stead. (from the Catechism of the Catholic Church)

Spiritual Thought – I threw to the right and the left to my little birds the good seed that the good God puts in my little hand. And then, the seed does what it will! I don’t concern myself about it. Sometimes the results are as if I had thrown nothing; other times, something good results. But the good God says to me, “Give, give always without concerning yourself with results.” (St. Therese of Lisieux, on working with the Carmelite novices)

A Little Humor – A man got fired from his job sorting rocks at the quarry because he was taking everything for granite.
