SECOND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Reflection by Rev. Leonard N. Peterson

For quite some time I have been fascinated by the flexibility of our beloved English language. Its development is often rather quick, especially with the advent of "techno speak." Old words get evicted or completely change their meaning. New words are created swiftly and get widespread use. So it is with the acronym "ASAP." Its imperative implications come paired with urgency, and in a fast paced world, the letters have even been turned into a word. It has a "cousin," if you will, in an older creation, namely "PDQ." The milder translation is "pretty darn quick."

All this talk of language arose in my mind after rereading what St. Matthew has to say about how Our Lord's first disciples reacted to His invitation to follow Him. Matthew tells us that they did it "immediately." How refreshing it was to read that for me. So often I wrestle with indecision. "Immediately" for me involves a certain freedom, unhampered by doubt or indecision. It further notifies all of us that the attraction Jesus had here was for real men used to making quick but important decisions fighting for their livelihood on the open sea. Where and when to toss their nets for fish could almost be a matter of life or death in their daily struggle to provide for their families and themselves.

I read a scriptural commentary in which the writer almost hastens to tell us that Matthew's account is a compressed one. That St. John's version of the same incident is more likely because it includes the natural human tendency to be hesitant to embark on a new direction in life. But I thought to myself that "Sure, we all have to do our research and give serious thought to any major decision." Today we might say "Go on Google first." Certainly, the early four Apostles likely consulted their wives, children, and others before stepping away from their usual lives to follow this amazing young Rabbi from Nazareth.

But allow me to take Matthew literally for just a moment or two, to admire Saints Peter, Andrew, James and John for following their hearts as well as their heads in answering Jesus' invitation right away, without consulting a checklist. There is something invigorating about letting go of fear and apprehension and simply saying "Yes" to God right away. I can summon a certain Francis of Assisi who did it centuries later. We all have a knack for delay. We like staying right where we are in our custom made comfort zone and asking Jesus for His understanding.

Such immediate decisions don't have to be any more uprooting than a change in our daily schedule to get out of bed a half hour earlier to pray each day. Or choosing to fast one day a week to know what it feels like for those among us who through no fault of their own must go hungry most days if not all. You are mature enough to make your own list. But do it immediately.

Beware those well-meaning souls who will happily point out practical obstacles to your decisions. That's why we have to avoid delay. Like the apostles' decisions made long ago and far away, which they made "asap." Look where they are now. Meanwhile, we can imagine those first four Apostles saying to us at times: "Do it now! Today will be yesterday tomorrow."

From the Pastor

Catholic Schools Week – This week is Catholic Schools Week in the Archdiocese of Philadelphia. Our School has many activities planned for students and teachers to celebrate St. Margaret School. I am grateful to Mrs. Johnston, our principal and to all our faculty and staff for the devotion they show to the students in our School. We ask God’s continued blessings upon our School, which was founded in 1922 and has served and enriched the faith and lives of many children throughout the years.

Knights of Columbus Coat Drive – Our Knights of Columbus Council here at St. Margaret’s is participating in a winter coat drive conducted under the auspices of the Knights. Members of the Knights in our Council will be outside church after all the Masses next weekend to collect funds to finance the purchase of 72 new winter coats to be given to needy children. Your support would be much appreciated.

Sunday of the Word of God – Pope Francis recently promulgated that this Third Sunday of Ordinary Time is to be celebrated as a time when we especially recall the value of the sacred Scriptures and renew our commitment to reading, studying and praying with the Word of God. In his Apostolic Letter concerning this celebration of God’s Word the Pope wrote: “ ‘He opened their minds to understand the Scriptures.’ (Lk. 24-45). This was one of the final acts of the risen Lord before his Ascension. Jesus appeared to the assembled disciples, broke bread with them and opened their minds to the understanding of the sacred Scriptures. To them, amid their fear and bewilderment, he unveiled the meaning of the paschal mystery: that in accordance with the Father’s eternal plan he had to suffer and rise from the dead in order to bring repentance and forgiveness of sins. He then promised to send the Holy Spirit, who would give them strength to be witnesses of this saving mystery.

The relationship between the risen Lord, the community of believers and sacred Scripture is essential to our identity as Christians. Without the Lord who opens our minds to them, it is impossible to understand the Scriptures in depth. Yet the contrary is equally true: without the Scriptures, the events of the mission of Jesus and of his Church in this world would remain incomprehensible. Hence, Saint Jerome could rightly claim: ‘Ignorance of the Scriptures is ignorance of Christ.’ ”

We give thanks today for the great gift of the Bible, God’s Holy Word, and we recommit ourselves to loving God’s Word and allowing it to guide our minds and fill our spirits with God’s grace and power.

Reboot Revisited – One of the ways Chris Stefanick spoke of to stay strong in our faith was to constantly reboot. God is forgiving. We fail, but the Lord is always there to give us his mercy and renew our spirits. What we need to do is constantly examine how we could respond more generously in living God’s love. Assessing where we need to be forgiven and need to grow is a valuable means for discovering the ways God is inviting us to follow him more closely and share his goodness with others more freely. A brief daily examination of conscience is a great way to nurture our spiritual growth. There are many ways to do that. Here is one: thank God for some of the blessings of the day, think about where you have responded well and shared God’s goodness with others; consider one way in which you could do better and where God is inviting you to grow; reflect on God’s mercy for your sins and shortcomings; look to the next day with hope and joy. You can walk through those steps in a couple of minutes. It will benefit you greatly.

Church Teaching: Solidarity - The principle of solidarity, also articulated in terms of “friendship” or “social charity,” is a direct demand of human and Christian brotherhood. Solidarity is manifested in the first place by the distribution of goods and remuneration for work. It also presupposes the effort for a more just social order where tensions are better able to be reduced and conflicts more readily settled by negotiation. Socio-economic problems can be resolved only with the help of all the forms of solidarity: solidarity of the poor among themselves, between rich and poor, of workers among themselves, between employers and employees in a business, solidarity among nations and people. International solidarity is a requirement of the moral order; world peace depends in part upon this. (from the Catechism of the Catholic Church)

Spiritual Thought – You are the Body of Christ. In you and through you the work of the incarnation must go forward. You are meant to incarnate in your lives the theme of your adoration – you are to be taken, blessed, broken, and distributed, that you maybe the means of grace and vehicles of Eternal Charity. (St. Augustine)

A Little Humor – Respect your elders. They graduated from school without the internet.

Poor Box Donations

Thank You for your recent generous donations of $960 to Mercy Hospice.

Please accept our grateful appreciation on behalf of the women and children who reside with us at Mercy. If they had the opportunity to do so, each one would surely express heartfelt thanks for the difference that your support of our mission makes in empowering them and lifting their spirits.

Mercy Hospice has been a lifeline of support and compassionate service for women in crisis who became homeless because of substance abuse and addiction. Mercy continues to be one of the only recovery house programs in the city where women can stay with their young children. With your vital assistance, we are able to offer life-sustaining services to these women: hot meals seven days a week, shelter, clothing, educational programming, recovery support, and case management.
