Reflection by Rev. Leonard N. Peterson

In what seems now to be a lifetime ago, I had a minor role in a high school production of the Broadway play “1776.” The unique aspect here was the fact that the cast was made up of both teachers and students. One did such things like that not only for the fun (which it was) but also to cement healthy relations with the students while building school community. Years later, one of the student cast members, indeed the one who played Thomas Jefferson, wound up being the next door neighbor of my sister. When he and I met again, our memories brought us back to our brief acting careers. We could even recite some of the lines from the script that we had to memorize way back when!

I thought of all this as our Independence Day weekend 2020 is upon us. Naturally, the events of the real 1776 come to the fore. We recall the bravery of our Founding Fathers in declaring independence from a tyrannical King George, whose decisions and actions had forced the issue. We also remember that July 4th was only the beginning. What followed was a bitter war, the first of many our country has fought since. That was the price in hardship and blood that our freedom cost in those tenuous days. Our young country paid it in full.

As Catholic Christians, we are keenly aware of another kind of war, a spiritual one, not limited to a calendar year. It pits us against the lesser parts of ourselves that we know can block our efforts to be independent of sin. We long for the peace of our promised heaven. Fortunately, we follow the greatest “Revolutionary” of them all: Our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. The Bible tells us how He fought for and won our freedom from sin and death. So the war is won, even though our individual battles go on.

On this weekend of parades, barbecues and dazzling fireworks that we use to mark the Fourth, it might seem out of place to reflect on this inner spiritual war. But our Scriptures today call us to do so, and they are beyond any fixed time. After all, they speak to us of real life, and its battles will be with us long after the parades are over and the fireworks fade away.

St. Paul once wrote about such a battle in his letter to the Romans, in Chapter 7, verse 19. Hear it again: “For I do not do the good I want to do, but the evil I do not want to do—this I keep on doing.” Sound familiar? This tyranny is far worse than that of King George. So, what a relief it is to hear Jesus say today these most comforting words in all of the New Testament: “Come to Me, all you who labor and are burdened, and I will give you rest.”

While we honor the heroics of our noble Founding Fathers, and our first army of colonials, we can, in this Holy Eucharist also honor God our heavenly Father. Gladly do we take His Son’s yoke upon us, for it is truly easy and a light burden.

I close with something we all need to remember: the freedom we celebrate this weekend, and all freedom, including the spiritual, is never “the right to do as we please, but the liberty to do as we ought.” Enjoy your holiday!

From the Pastor

Adult Baptism - Our Parish RCIA (Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults) Program had one catechumen this year who was being prepared for Baptism at the Easter Vigil back in April. COVID-19 intervened and the baptism was postponed but today we are happy to say that Gurpreet Kaur will receive the Sacraments of Initiation - Baptism, Confirmation and Eucharist - at a special Mass today. We extend our congratulations and prayerful best wishes to Gurpreet as she becomes a member of the Catholic Church. She has been a steadfast student of the faith throughout the year and we rejoice with her as she opens her heart, mind and soul to Christ and prepares to receive the many graces the Lord wants to pour out upon her now and throughout her life. Kaur will be receiving another Sacrament in September at St. Margaret Church when she enters into marriage with her fiancé, Michael Turco. May God bless them both as they prepare to celebrate and live the Sacrament of Matrimony.

Vacation and Savoring Life - On retreat a couple of weeks ago I re-read a book that I first read in the Seminary many years ago. The book is entitled "Spirituality and the Gentle Life." The author contrasts what he calls the "willful" life with the "gentle" life. Living in a willful way is always to assert our wants on life, trying to control and dominate our lives and forcing life into our patterns and selfish desires. The "gentle" life recognizes that we live best when we let God take the lead, when we want to move according to his patterns and in his ways. We gently move according to his Spirit, not trying to extend ourselves beyond God's will, nor failing to respond as the person God wants us to be and as to what God wants us to do. The gentle person is graceful, moving in accord with the dictates of the natural patterns God has built into life. Gentle persons can truly listen to God and others, not always seeking to assert themselves, not always looking beyond the present to the next thing but to go at God's pace and savor what they are doing now. Our lives can be so task-oriented and we can be so driven to get things done that we never truly enjoy life. We fail to savor God's presence with us in nature, in our families and friends, and in our daily lives in so many ways. The slower pace of summer can be a time to learn how to savor life again. Food is so much more enjoyable when we relish it, taste it and savor it, rather than hurriedly gobbling it down so that we can move on to the next thing. Life is the same way. It is so much more enjoyable when we savor it. Life is a gift to be enjoyed and cherished, not just a task to be accomplished. May the summer months and some vacation time help us to savor the wonderful gift of life that the Lord has so graciously bestowed upon us.

Church Teaching: The Dignity of the Human Person

The dignity of the human person is rooted in his creation in the image and likeness of God; it is fulfilled in his vocation to divine beatitude. It is essential to a human being to freely direct himself to this fulfillment. By his deliberate actions, the human person does, or does not, conform to the good promised by God and attested by moral conscience. Human beings make their own contribution to their interior growth. With the help of grace they grow in virtue, avoid sin, and if they sin they entrust themselves as did the prodigal son to the mercy of our Father in heaven. In this way they attain the perfection of charity. (from the Catechism of the Catholic Church)

Spiritual Thought: The Gentle Life - Gentleness becomes possible when my surroundings are cast in a divine light. The gentle attitude, nourished by my presence to the Divine, takes me out of the world of willfulness. It turns me into a new person who sees and hears and moves in the light of the Sacred whose Divine Gentleness bathes all in its wake. (Adrian van Kaam, from "Spirituality and the Gentle Life")

A Little Humor – The past, present and future walk into a bar, it was tense.
