SECOND SUNDAY OF EASTER

Reflection by Rev. Leonard N. Peterson

How many times have you thought to yourself, or said to others those three little words: "I doubt it"? The subject could be the candidate for the upcoming presidential election; or a claim by an auto dealer that none of the cars on his/her lot have any hidden markups; or the suddenly positive rating a man gives his spouse of her meatloaf. On and on such a list could go, revolving around those three little words.

Doubt can be a good thing if it fosters questions especially of complicated corollaries of our faith. The doubter here is only probing deeper into his/her faith wanting a mature answer. Lingering doubt in matters of revealed faith can be a serious problem if it is not relieved either by the direct answer of a qualified expert or good private research. Our faith has nothing to fear from sound reason.

All of this brings us to the problem of doubt that Saint Thomas had. Unfortunately, his healthy doubts got him a sad nickname that developed into a cliché, that of "Doubting Thomas." In time, it became a popular description of anyone who questions what we tell them. Thomas represents many people in this cynical era, so in love with science and technology, as to be always wanting tangible proof before believing anything. Add the disregard many have for the supernatural, and you have the general mood of the times. So when the best of the Good News of the Gospel – the Resurrection – is presented to Thomas, his nature kicks in and he reacts: "I'll never believe it."

A week after this (I wonder if Thomas' attitude changed over 7 days) Jesus reappears in His glorified Body. I imagine Him looking a wee bit stern as He calls Thomas over so that the doubter could literally probe the five scars left on that body. But I also picture a gentle smile crosses Jesus' holy face as Thomas kneels before Him and he makes that profound act of beautiful faith: "My Lord and My God." I can see Jesus helping Thomas up and then offering him a heartfelt hug. For all my years since ordination I have used Thomas' words as my own as I elevate the Sacred Host at Mass.

Jesus then offers a mild rebuke to Thomas and to us, followed by one of the most consoling sentences in all of Scripture: "Blessed are those who have not seen and have believed." Talk about Divine Mercy! Here is that very grace poured out on an intelligent apostle, whose faith would propel him to preach about Jesus even to the people of far away India! Such great encouragement to us who have not seen but have believed! That blessing of Jesus is itself part of the very same mercy we celebrate on this Divine Mercy Sunday. Pope Saint John Paul II fostered this devotion because his own strong faith told him the world needs it.

Allow me to close with a description of a "Peanuts" cartoon. Picture Lucy looking out the window at a steady downpour of rain. "Boy," she said, "look at that rain. What if it floods the whole world?"

"It will never do that," Linus replied confidently. "In the ninth chapter of Genesis, God promised Noah that that would never happen again, and the sign of the promise is the rainbow."

"You've taken a great load off my mind," said Lucy with a relieved smile. "Sound theology," pontificated Linus, "has a way of doing that!"

Well, I for one don't doubt it.

From the Pastor

The Visitation and the Virus – I have a simple but beautiful print of Mary’s visitation to her cousin, Elizabeth, which I received many years ago. In the depiction, the two women are beginning to embrace after Mary’s long journey. They are glad to be in the presence of one another to celebrate that they are both expecting, and for mutual support; they clearly have a great affection for one another. The picture comes to my mind these days because this is a time when we have to limit our physical presence with those outside our homes. Although Mary and Elizabeth are depicted as with each other in the picture, most of the time they were not able to see each other because they lived at a distance. The geographical distance between them made it all the more powerful and pleasing when they could visit. Our distance from each other these days can be a source of fostering our appreciation for our family members and friends that we cannot see as frequently as before.

I miss seeing my brothers and sisters and my extended family, and my friends, and I miss seeing you, the parishioners of St. Margaret’s, the people God has given me to love and serve as a bridegroom loves his bride. I am finding that all of this is making my heart more appreciative of the gift of the many people God has graciously placed in my life. In our absences from one another our hearts can expand to a new appreciation, affection and commitment for the gift of each other. We can look forward with a renewed joyful longing for the visits that will come when we move forth from the restrictions of the coronavirus.

Divine Mercy Sunday – Helen Kowalska was the third of ten children born into a poor and peasant family in Glogowiec, Poland in 1905. At 20 years of age she entered the cloistered convent of the Sisters of Our Lady of Mercy and took the name Sister Maria Faustina. She was blessed with many mystical experiences and revelations, particularly concerning the infinite mercy of God. She recounted these revelations in her Diary: Divine Mercy in My Soul, which the Lord asked her to keep during the last four years of her life, before her death in 1938. The mission the Lord entrusted to Sister Faustina was to remind us of the infinite mercy of God for us in order to stir in our hearts a renewed love for Christ and commitment to the spirit of Christian trust in the Lord who looks upon us with a compassionate and merciful heart. The Chaplet of Divine Mercy is a devotion handed down through Sister Faustina to deepen our trust in and devotion to God’s mercy. There are pamphlets in the vestibule that give instructions on how to pray the Chaplet.

Pope John Paul II, who had a devotion to Sister Faustina, proclaimed some years ago that the Sunday after Easter was to be called Divine Mercy Sunday, a special time to rejoice in the mercy Jesus Christ extends to us.

Catholic Charities Appeal – The 2020 Appeal is well underway. The goal is $12.5 million to support the charitable works of the Archdiocese: 57% for Social Services; 13% for the Schools of Special Education; 11% for Evangelization, Parish and Spiritual Life; 10% for Local Mission Activities; and 9% for the care of retired, elderly and ill priests. Your contributions go, for example, to support the many local food banks run by Nutritional Development Services of the Archdiocese. Last year, over 700,000 people were direct recipients of food from these food banks.

Church Teaching: The Mercy of God – Jesus invites sinners to the table of the kingdom: “I came not to call the righteous, but sinners.” He invites them to that conversion without which one cannot enter the kingdom, but shows them in word and deed his Father’s boundless mercy for them and the vast joy in heaven over one sinner who repents. The supreme proof of his love will be the sacrifice of his own life for the forgiveness of sins. (from the Catechism of the Catholic Church)

Spiritual Thought – It is better not to allow anger, however just and reasonable, to enter at all, than to admit it in ever so slight a degree; once admitted, it will not be easily expelled, for, though at first but a small plant, it will immediately grow into a large tree. (St. Augustine)

St. Margaret’s church is open for private prayer from 7:30 AM to 4 PM, Monday through Saturday, and 7:30 AM to 2 PM on Sunday.

A Little Humor – An engineer was describing his job to some middle schoolers and mentioned that “one of my colleagues and I designed a medical instrument for measuring human muscle tone.” Later, he added, “another colleague and I designed a system to allow merchants to print coupons at the cash register.” Thinking that all this technical talk was confusing, he asked if there were any questions. There was one: “What’s a colleague?”

Novena in Preparation for the 57th World Day of Prayer for Vocations April 25 - May 3, 2020

Around the world on May 3, 2020, Catholics will "Pray the Lord of the Harvest to send laborers into his harvest" (Mt 9:38, Lk 10:2). The World Day of Prayer for Vocations is a public, shared prayer for an increase in vocations to the priesthood and religious life, as well as to secular institutes and missionary life.

This year's message of Pope Francis focuses on words chosen to thank priests and support their ministry and is set on the backdrop of the Gospel passage that recounts the remarkable experience of Jesus and Peter during a stormy night on the Sea of Galilee (Mt 14:22-33).

Please join the Vocation Office and Philadelphia Seminarians for a 9-day Novena for Vocations which begins on Saturday, April 25 and continues until Sunday, May 3. Reflections and prayers for each day will be posted on our website at Heedthecall.org/novena and Facebook page at facebook.com/phillypriest.
